

MORNING LIGHT
BRENDA TELLO

A glimmer of hope
Is what this heart needs
A sign that everything will be okay
A peace of mind
Is all I'm asking for
A peace of mind
Is all I want
Make me stronger than the day before
Make me the person I want to be
Not a person from a long time ago
Make me a person that God approves of
So he can be proud
So I can be proud
I'll find my morning light
I'll keep it in my sight
Won't let it slip away
There will come a day
When I get back on track
I miss the sun in my face
A time when nothing seemed gray
No worries on my mind
Only sunlight in my eyes
I'll find my morning light
To escape from this night
Rescue me from this endless night
For I can't escape the darkness
That has consumed my life
Every breath I take
Fills my lungs with shame
I'll never wake up
To a ray of light
That will warm my heart
And fill me with comfort
I'll find my morning light
I'll keep it in my sight
Won't let it slip away
There will come a day

When I get back on track
I miss the sun in my face
A time when nothing seemed gray
No worries on my mind
Only sunlight in my eyes
I'll find my morning light
To escape from this night
El pasado es todo lo que tengo
No debería ser una distracción hoy en día
Debería ayudarme a salir adelante
A mantenerme a la vanguardia del juego
Que llamamos vivir
Voy a seguir adelante
Sin mirar atrás
Preguntándome qué podría haber sido
No más lamentos
No más vergüenzas
Sólo una lección
No más un pecado
I'll keep it in my sight
A time when nothing seemed gray
Only sunlight in my eyes
Not sure where it is yet
But I won't give up on it
Because it's all I want
It is all I need
Once you let go of all the doubts
Once you let go of your past
You will find peace
You will find hope
You will find your morning light
